

Own a business? Manage a business? Do you ever get flustered about just how much there is to know when it comes to employment?

We understand it can seem daunting about the amount of information that's out there, and what you have to do as an employer. We have developed this workshop to give a brief introduction to what human resources is, and what the key pieces of legislation are that you need to adhere to or be mindful of when operating a business.

Human Resources

A brief introduction regarding your 'human' resources, and an overview of operational HR practices such as recruitment, development, employee engagement and employment changes.

Employment Relations

The employment relationship; what can go right and what happens when it goes wrong.

Employment Legislation

From the Employment Relations Act to the Privacy Act to the Health and Safety at Work Act - there is a range of legislation you need to consider and adhere to when considering your obligations as an employer.

We are here! This is the area that we specialise in, just as you get a Plumber to fix your leaking pipe, we are here to be your employment and HR sounding board and help you navigate those murky waters.

Something you want to learn more about?

- Get in touch today!
- Workshops are 1-1.5 hours
- Ideal size is up to 8 Team Leaders/Managers

Get in touch today to find out more! Contact us through the website or phone us on 06 868 3544

